Senate Votes Filibuster Curbs As Battle Goes On

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has changed its rule governing debate, but the argument continued today over how big a step it had taken toward curbing filibusters.

"No gain at all," commented Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.), one of a group of Northern and Western senators who had fought to make it easier to throttle filibusters against civil rights bills and other measures.

"A soothing syrup to lull the conscience of America," was the assessment of Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), one of the leaders of the bipartisan fight for a rules change.

Some Southern senators protested that the change—any change—went too far.

But an overwhelming majority of the Senate voted 72-22 for the new rule to allow two thirds of the senators present and voting to cut off debate. A rule in effect since 1949 had required the votes of two thirds of the entire Senate membership, or 66 of the 98 senators.

The rules battle roared to its climax Monday night with senators in sharp disagreement over what the effect of the new rule will be.

But no one questioned that the outcome was a spectacular triumph for Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader.

The change in rules went through just the way he proposed it on the opening day of the new Congress last Wednesday. Johnson and other Senate leaders of both parties called it a reasonable, middle-of-the-road solution.

Douglas said, however, that it marked a great victory for Southern senators.

With the aid of conservative Republicans, he said, they had been able "not to blunt but to reverse the drive for civil rights and an effective antifilibuster rule."

In contrast, Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), said "it is a sad day when the Senate of the United States demeans itself by imposing new restraints on freedom of debate.

More Swift Trials Under Way In Cuba

At Least 175 Have Been Executed Since Flight Of Batista

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—The execution toll is mounting as Fidel Castro's military courts continue to exact vengeance for violence attributed to supporters of fallen Dictator Fulgencio Batista.

day night. More speedy trials were under way, including hearings for possibly 100 prisoners in Oriente province.

The toll took a big jump Monday when revolutionary firing squads reportedly shot 75 persons near Santiago, capital of Oriente, where Castro's rebellion was centered and antirebel repression was strongest.

Officials of the provisional government claimed all cases were being fully investigated, but otherwise there was no information on the trials of the condemned men. Apparently, most were being held in secret, and by military courts rather than by the revolutionary courts the new regime has said would be established to try "war crimes" offenders.

Not all the defendants got the death penalty. Two policemen in Manzanillo were sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Approximately 3,000 persons are being held throughout Cuba. In Oriente there are about 500, according to Fidel's brother, Raul,

3 Republicans File For Posts At Wellsville

Davidson, Stewart Ask Renomination; 4 Others Enter

Three new Wellsville Republican candidates were listed today by the County Election Board, including a pair of incumbents seeking renomination to municipal offices, while three more GOP aspirants entered the May 5 primaries from East Palestine and Salem.

Auditor Edgar S. Davidson and Treasurer Charles W. Stewart filed this morning to seek new terms at Wellsville and John E. Porter, 217 Wells Ave., entered for the GOP nomination for First Ward councilman.

Others turning in petitions seeking renomination were George Archibald and Charles W. Gandy, both of East Palestine, for auditor and treasurer, respectively, and James H. Criswell for treasurer of Salem.

Porter, a resident of Wellsville for 17 years, sought the same Council post unsuccessfully several years ago.

A former millworker, he has been employed by the County Highway Department for the last six months. He is a member of the First Church of the Nazarene in East Liverpool.

He is married and has six children.

Porter filed an application for the councilman-at-large post left vacant when Frank Wilson became county commissioner. Council appointed Dominic Dash, a Democrat, to the unexpired term.

Stewart, an employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was appointed treasurer Sept. 1, 1957, to fill the unexpired term of Davidson, who was appointed auditor.

But the November ballots for that year had been printed and Davidson's name appeared for treasurer. He won, immediately resigned and was re-appointed auditor and Stewart again was named treasurer. Stewart served over 12 years as a councilman-at-large and was Council clerk when appointed treasurer.

Davidson, a Main St. jeweler, is active in the Wellsville Historical Society.

Palestine Democrats Announce Partial Slate

EAST PALESTINE — A partial Democratic slate for the May primary — headed by Homer A. Freer for mayor — was announced at a meeting of party leaders and prospective candidates Monday night at the City Hall.

To Strive For Economy

DiSalle Promises His 'Best Efforts'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If you awoke today to find yourself Governor of Ohio, would you be happy, or would you be afraid?

Michael V. DiSalle, a Toledo Democrat, awoke this morning at the governor's mansion in suburban Bexley.

He was governor. He could have been happy. He was, in a way. He could have been frightened. And he was, in a way.

He was the top man among nearly 9½ million Ohioans. It's a position many seek, but few really relish.

DiSalle knew the oceans of flow-ers in his new office were beginning to wilt, that the over-hearty greetings of Monday will not be forthcoming today.

Today's schedule? Scores of callers at his Statehouse office, most of them wanting some favor. And upstairs: Scores of bills being introduced into the Legislature seeking some change in state laws.

Inaugural day is a wonderful episode. Joy is unrestrained. But none but the hard-nosed political realist is ready for tomorrow. The life of Ohio's first four-year-term governor—from this point—becomes tough indeed. DiSalle was sharply reminded of this by the outgoing Republican Governor, C. William O'Neill, who reminded him:

"You are carrying Ohio's progressive banner now. I speak for all Ohio citizens. We like you. We are depending upon you.

"We believe you will rebuff those seeking special privilege, deny the greedy, resist the evil promoters and with a steady hand guide the Buckeye ship of state, holding high the torch of idealism for liberty, justice and equality for all men everywhere."

O'Neill did not stick around to hear his successor take the oath of office. He and his aides left the Capitol quickly.

DiSalle spoke for nearly 15 minutes in his inaugural remarks. "We will try to administer your state with every bit of economy possible," he said. "We will meet decent standards for the charges of the state. We will keep the citizens of Ohio completely informed of the good and the bad.

"I pledge to you all of my efforts, all of my abilities to bring to the people of Ohio the best government possible."

After that, DiSalle and the state's new first lady, Mrs. Myrtle DiSalle, shook thousands of hands in a public reception in the Statehouse rotunda.

And while they were greeting well-wishers, so were the other state officials inaugurated Monday:

Democratic Lt. Gov. John W. Donahey of Alliance, son of the late Governor and U. S. Senator, A. Vic Donahey.

Democratic Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy of Cleveland.

Democratic State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson of Columbus, a former state auditor.

Republican Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, the only member of the GOP ticket to survive the Democratic landslide last November.

One of DiSalle's first acts as governor was to sign into law a bill passed last week at his request to raise the salaries of most of his Cabinet officials. He approved the measure — which O'Neill could have signed, but ignored—only 25 minutes after he finished his inaugural address.

Striking Road Crew Returns

'Work-Or-Else' Edict Ends Beaver Tieup

BEAVER — Faced with a "work-or-else" ultimatum from state highway officials, 180 striking Beaver County highway maintenance workers returned to their jobs this morning.

Secretary of Highways Lewis M. Stevens declared Monday afternoon, "If they don't return, we will invoke provisions of the 1947 act which provides for summary dismissal of state employees who go on strike."

The workers, all members of Local 1111, State, County and Municipal Employees Union, struck Thursday, returned to work briefly Saturday and quit work again yesterday. Robert Fitzsimmons, local president, said the strike was against working conditions and the patronage setup.

All but 3 of the 180 workers are paid by the day. They are not under Civil Service.

The local's charter was suspended over the weekend with Edward Mossmiller, union organizer, named to take over its affairs.

Salary Hikes For Wellsville Faculty Slated

Board To Take Final Action On Feb. 9 For $300 Yearly Raises

Proposed salary increases of $300 yearly for Wellsville teachers was discussed by the Board of Education Monday night.

The 3-mill levy was adopted at the November election to provide the increase. The money was designated for operating expenses but earmarked for salaries.

The increase will be granted to raise the pay standards to the level of surrounding communities, the board has said. Sixty-five teachers and principals are in line for increases.

Figured on 95 per cent collection, the levy will return approximately $26,665. Money remaining after the pay increases probably will go for increments, retirement fund matching money and small increases to other employees.

The raises will not go into effect until April. Formal action is expected at the meeting Feb. 9.

In other business, the board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Arlene Mathess, instructor of an ungraded class, for maternity reasons. Mrs. Sandra Baker of Wellsville was hired in her place.

Mrs. Ro Ann Davis, wife of the Rev. Bruce Davis, new minister at the Second Presbyterian Church, was hired as a fourth grade instructor at a salary of $3,600. A graduate of Ohio State University, she formerly taught at Lake Milton schools.

The board approved the payment of $2 per hour for tutors for a ninth grade girl and third grade boy who are unable to attend regular classes due to illness.

Proposed adult night classes will be operated on a tuition basis, the board ruled. Supt. S. E. Daw is accepting applications for the classes. Earl Bake, president, and Donald Wellington, a mem-

County Business Gains In Final Week Of 1958

Retail business in Columbiana County wound up 1958 on an encouraging note, with sales for the last week far ahead of the final week of 1957, sales tax figures showed today.

Sales tax collections hit $132,796 for the last week of 1958, up $14,256 from the $118,530 shown in the final week of 1957, according to State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy at Columbus.

But overall collections for the last half of 1958 were down 9.7 per cent from the comparable period of 1957. The collections hit $985,894 for the period July 1-Dec. 31, a decline of $106,069 from the $1,091,963 shown in the last half of 1957.

Chester Man Dies In Alaska Plane Wreck

The body of Tech. Sgt. Robert Lee Register, 29, of Chester, one of nine Air Force crewmen killed in the crash of a giant C124 Globemaster, was to be brought down today from the Alaskan glacier where the plane fell Sunday with no survivors.

Sgt. Register was the son of Mrs. Lucy Register, 207 Alley E., Chester.

The crippled plane failed to clear a 5,200-foot mountain range late Sunday as it came in for an emergency landing, with two of its four engines out, at Homer on the tip of the Kenai Peninsula.

The big cargo carrier was demolished as it hit Petrof Glacier between the 3,000- and 4,000-foot levels. Carrying more than 17 tons of classified military cargo, the C124 had taken off from McChord Air Force Base in Washington about noon Saturday on a flight to Kodiak, Alaska.

A civilian pilot spotted the wreckage at mid-morning yesterday, and helicopters carried a rescue team to the site before noon. Three bodies were recovered and efforts were being made to bring out the others.

The plane, stationed at Travis (Calif.) Air Force Base, was being accompanied by two Coast Guard amphibians toward the emergency landing after its engines failed. It was losing altitude when it entered a cloudbank and disappeared.

Register enlisted in 1946 and served 18 months in the Army Air Corps. After his discharge, he worked for about two years at the Crucible Steel Co. at Midland.

He enlisted in the Air Force in 1950 and served at Lackland (Tex.) Air Force Base, later serving for two years in Japan with the Strategic Air Command.

State School Board Acts

Transfer Of Hillcrest Area To Wellsville Is Approved

The State Board of Education Monday officially endorsed the proposed transfer of the Hillcrest area in Southern Local School district to Wellsville and directed the Columbiana County Board of Education to administer the transfer.

County Supt. James L. McBride said today the county board has a certain period of time before taking final action on granting the petition for the transfer, and it probably will not become effective legally until about July 1.

Residents of the Hillcrest area had sought for some time to join the Wellsville School District, carrying their petition to Common Pleas Court after it was initially rejected by the County Board last year.

The Hillcrest area was originally in the Yellow Creek Local District which last year was merged with Salineville and Wayne Districts to form the new Southern Local District.

Leaders of the transfer move included Paul Talbott and Hugh Nile, who attended the State Board meeting yesterday at Columbus.

The move to incorporate the area of about 7.5 miles with Wellsville School District began with the filing of the petition in October 1957. The county board refused the petition in November 1957, and last spring a Common Pleas Court ruling held the petition was legal and would have to be granted by the county board or referred to the State Board.

The County Board is slated to meet Saturday night for reorganization and it is not certain whether action on granting the transfer will be taken then. It was indicated the action would probably be considered at the February meeting.

Mahoning Transfer

To Salem Is Refused

SALEM — The State Board of Education disapproved the transfer of a portion of Mahoning Local School district to the Salem School District when it met Monday at Columbus.

The rejection affects between 30 and 40 families in the Goshen Center elementary school area, particularly residents of Duck Creek and Kent Rd. vicinity.

The affected area is northwest of the city.

Operator Of Tavern Due State Hearing

A permit holder for the Village Green, 529 Market St., is scheduled to receive a hearing Thursday before the Board of Liquor Control in Columbus on a gambling charge.

Harry S. Pease III of Rogers, who holds a D-5 permit for the tavern, is accused of placing money bets on horse races.

Pease and Alfred Nitsche, 820 Ohio Ave., Midland, proprietor of the tavern, were arrested Sept. 30 by agents of the State Liquor Department following a week-long investigation.

Nitsche was to have gone on trial today in Municipal Court on a charge of accepting a $10 bet on a race, but an indefinite postponement was granted Monday after Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, a defense attorney, said he had another court appointment.

Scientists Say Atlas Will Fall On Jan. 21

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Scientists at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory estimate that Atlas, America's biggest satellite, will plunge in flames Jan. 21.

The scientists said that the 4½-ton artificial moon will burn and disintegrate when 30 to 50 miles aloft in its plunge.

Dr. George Veis said the satellite, launched Dec. 18, will have made about 500 trips around the world before it expires.

Fire Destroys 2-Story Home

$10,000 Loss Seen In Price St. Blaze

Flames leveled a two-story Price St. Ext. home early this morning while the family of three slept at the nearby home of relatives.

The frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Holmes was a blazing mass of flames by the time Liverpool Township, East, volunteer firemen arrived about 4:30 a. m.

Assistant Fire Chief Harry Smith estimated the loss at $10,000.

Holmes, 22, his wife, and infant daughter, Pamela, 1, were at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Henrich, of Price St. Ext. where they had gone last night because the baby was ill.

Neighbors said they heard an explosion from the vicinity of the home and about 15 minutes later saw the four-room home in flames. The structure was owned by Charles Henrich of Price St. Ext., an uncle of Mrs. Holmes. Smith said the house was valued at $6,500 and furnishings at $3,000. The house was insured for $1,300, while the furnishings were entirely insured, he said.

Nineteen firemen from the Liverpool department battled the blaze for about two hours. Twelve firemen from Calcutta and their equipment aided the department. Smith said water from a nearby creek was pumped to quell the flames. He said the roof and walls had fallen in by the time the firemen got to the scene.

Cause of the blaze is undetermined, Smith said, and he plans to contact state fire inspectors at Youngstown to investigate.

Mrs. Holmes said the blaze may have started from an oil stove in the kitchen or a coal stove in the livingroom.

Smith said firemen returned later this morning to water down the ruins so they would be cool enough to make an investigation.

Will March At Harrisburg

Midland High School Band To Play For Gov. Lawrence's Inauguration

The Midland Board of Education Monday evening granted the Lincoln High School band permission to march in the inauguration parade for Gov.-elect David L. Lawrence Jan. 20 at Harrisburg.

In the motion made by Edward Cilli, new member, the band and necessary personnel will attend at no expense to the school district except for faculty substitutions.

THE REQUEST was made by the Beaver County Democratic committee through Burgess Eli Corak, Midland party chairman.

The band will represent the county committee which will contribute $300 toward the trip, which will also be financed in part by band funds and proceeds of a recent tag day sale by the musicians.

Each member will be expected to pay $5 to cover part of hotel expenses and for $5,000 insurance. Chaperones will include three men and five women to be provided by the Band Boosters Club.

The 106-member band will leave Sunday on three Rochester Motor Co. buses and return the following Tuesday evening. Members must secure parents' approval for the trip.

THE PARADE will begin at 12:30 p. m. and cover a six-mile route, taking four hours. According to Charles P. Henderson, director, there is a possibility the Midland band will lead the parade.

Leslie Roach, president, appointed new committees for the 1958-59 school year, including:

Athletic—John Shovlin, chairman, John Haggerty and James Morrison; finance—Morrison, chairman, Frank Alois and Samuel Rosatone; personnel relations—Alois, chairman, Morrison and Rosatone; playground—Haggerty, chairman, Cilli and Shovlin; rules and regulations—Cilli, chairman, Alois and Haggerty; and property—Rosatone, chairman, Haggerty and Shovlin.

Cilli, elected at the meeting Dec. 8 to replace John E. Kane Jr. who resigned, was sworn in by Roach and assumed his duties.

SUPT. RALPH H. Jewell presented his 77-page annual report for the school year 1957-58 with information concerning the many activities of the period.

The board approved the request to the gymnasium were ordered installed at a cost of $766.80. The board also voted to advertise for classroom and office furnishings.

Ray Keller, maintenance superintendent, was granted permission to purchase 25 gallons of paint for $175 for painting concrete floors in the balcony, storage and panel rooms and steps in the new building.

He reported that the library furnace has cracked sections but may last out the season without repairs. He said three tubes were replaced in the high school boiler last weekend and three more remain to be installed.

Roach appointed a committee for the dedication of the new gymnasium with Morrison, chairman, Shovlin, Rosatone and Rudy Presutti, tax collector, as the outside member. No date has been set.

THE BOARD approved the renewal of a fidelity bond to cover Miss Bernice Coffin, secretary, for three years at a $47.25 premium.

On recommendation of Jewell, the board approved paying $2.50 an hour to teachers who supervise the lunch hour at the schools.

Jewell said noontime supervisory personnel at the high school has been increased to five persons instead of the previous two. They will work on a half-hour basis.

Jewell blamed in part the insufficient number of personnel on duty at lunch time as a reason for unchecked property damage at the high school during the period by some 150 tuition paying students from outside of the borough.

Planners, Councilmen Meet

Model Building Code Aired

Provisions of the model National Building Code, which is being considered for adoption in East Liverpool, were discussed in a three-hour meeting of the City Planning Commission and the Council planning committee Monday night.

The councilmen, planning commission and Mayor Fred P. Lawrence heard an explanation of the regulations and their administration from G. M. Watson, an engineer with the National Board of Fire Underwriters of New York City. He was accompanied by J. R. Jones Jr., an inspector for the Ohio Inspection Bureau at Columbus.

AS COMPANION measures to the building code, East Liverpool probably would want to adopt nationally-recognized regulations governing electrical wiring and plumbing installations, Watson told the group. First written in 1905 to eliminate inferior building construction as one of the major causes of fire, the National Building Code now is in use in 1,100 cities, he said.

The principal concern of the building code relates to the "strength, stability and fire resistance" of structures without restricting arbitrarily the types of materials that may be used, Watson said. There is nothing in the code that prevents building or remodeling work being done by a "do-it-yourself" householder so long as he signs a statement certifying that he understands the regulations and will comply with them, Watson added.

THE "DESIGN" section of the code covers installation of gas pipes and plumbing and incorporates the National Electrical Code, Watson said. There is no provision for complete regulation of plumbing, so the city may wish to adopt a model code used on the state or national level, he said.

The building code is concerned primarily with regulating construction of new buildings to assure they are safe from a structural and fire prevention standpoint, Watson explained. However, old buildings fall under the regulations when remodeling or renovation is proposed, he said.

The code is amended regularly to keep it up to date and cover newly-developed building materials, Watson said. For instance, a new provision covers interior finishing materials made of some plastic substances that burn readily. If the plastic finish is applied to the interior walls of a fireproof building, it is possible that the flammable plastic would snuff out the lives of those in the building without doing any real damage to the structure, he said.

DISCUSSING administration of the code, Watson said the city would need at least one inspector to see that the regulations are complied with. The National Code calls for a five-man board of appeals to which a builder may go when he feels an inspector has made an error, he added.

In some areas, one inspector serves a number of adjacent communities, dividing his work among those that have contracted for his services, Watson said. In three counties, private organizations are authorized to make inspections, eliminating the need for a publicly-hired inspector, he added. In the communities that hire their own inspectors, the office is not more than 90 per cent self-sustaining through fees and sometimes the percentage is lower, Watson said.

The National Code covers about 300 pages and is made up of 17 sections, each listing a separate phase of the regulations or their administration. It includes chapters on restrictions on material, light and ventilation, means of egress, requirements for various types of construction, fire-protection requirements for roofs, fire escapes and fire walls, chimneys, flues and vents, heat-producing appliances such as furnaces, elevators, dumbwaiters and moving stairways; electrical installation, floor loads, roof repairs and signs that project over streets or sidewalks.

AS THE SESSION ended, the mayor suggested that the planning commission seek a meeting with representative contractors and building trades unions for their comments on the proposed codes.

Construction Firm To Move

Lisbon Tract Bought For Industrial Uses

The Brown & Williams Construction Co. is to be transferred to Lisbon within a month following the purchase of the Hood Chemical Co. plant and 13-acre site at Lisbon, which will be used for industrial development.

The Hood Co. will move to a new location west of Akron in six to eight months to obtain a better distribution center for the firm's bleach products.

Robert A. Williams of Lisbon, purchaser of the Hood site, indicated the area will be divided into four sections, all close to Beaver Creek and to the Erie Railroad Co.

Williams, partner in the Brown & Williams Co. here, said the construction firm will be moved to the new development area in about 30 days.

The construction firm purchased the former Nellis Construction Co. in May 1957. Williams said the building on St. Clair Ave. will be offered for sale.

The site at Lisbon, just outside the village limits on the south side of the creek was formerly owned by the National Brass & Copper Co., which sold it to the Hood firm, whose main offices are at Ardmore, Pa.

Williams, 38, is also engaged in the lumber, steel fabricating, trucking and pre-cut homes business. His firms include the Lisbon Lumber Co., purchased in 1951 from the late Harry G. Neight and O. C. Caldwell; the Williams & Co. steel fabricators and the Williams Trucking Co.

The Lisbon Lumber Co. also manufactures the pre-cut Cessna Homes.

Plans call for the present roadway through the Hood site to be relocated about 200 feet south to bisect the industrial area and better serve its proposed four divisions.

The southeast area where the Hood plant is located will be made available for industry. It includes a concrete block building and three acres. The Williams & Co. fabricators will remain on the southwest side of four acres.

The Brown & Williams Construction Co. will be moved to a two-story office building and garage on the northeast section, which will also house the trucking concern. The four-acre site in the north-west will be offered to industry.

Township To Ask Ohio Blacktop Aid

State aid in the proposed blacktopping of the Echo Dell Rd., now a dirt road leading to Beaver Creek State Park, will be sought by St. Clair Township trustees, it was announced at a meeting Monday night.

A delegation from the road reported the proposed stretch as 1.4 miles. Trustees indicated they would contact Rep. Clarence (Dutch) Wetzel to determine if state aid would be offered because part of the project would be inside the park.

If state aid is not available, the improvement would be made only to the park entrance.

The trustees authorized the installation of a phone at the township garage. Plans were discussed for the transfer of the township office to the garage from the township hall in the near future. Trustees were authorized to attend a meeting of the Ohio Association of Trustees & Clerks Jan. 22-24 at Columbus.

The group will meet again Monday night.

Clinic Set Here On Thursday For Band Directors

Some 35 band directors and clarinetists from district high schools are expected to attend a two-hour clinic Thursday from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. in Memorial Auditorium.

Nilo W. Hovey, educational director of H. & A. Selmer, Inc., of Elkhart, Ind., will direct the event, with the general topic "Clarinet Teaching Problems." It is planned to have a group of high school clarinetists take part in exercises demonstrating techniques for improving section intonation.

Hovey has a background of more than 30 years experience in directing high school and college bands. He formerly was chairman of the Music Education Department and director of the concert band at Butler University, Indianapolis. He has served as lecturer, clinician, adjudicator and guest conductor in all parts of the United States and in Ontario, Canada.

More than 50 instrumental methods and books of instructional material have been written or edited by Hovey.

Representing the state were William Quicksall, director of Division 11; Edward Elgin, administrative assistant, and Levi (Jack) Kimball, engineer of location and design, all of New Philadelphia.

An informal hearing followed and residents in the vicinity asked questions that were answered by Kimball and Quicksall.

No Opposition Filed On Road

7 Appear At Airing Of Route 30 Project

The State Highway Department held a public hearing Monday at the Columbiana County commissioners' office and seven persons appeared but there was no opposition to the proposed relocation of a 0.76-mile section of Route 30 in Hanover township.

The location is about 4 miles east of Hanover and 6 miles west of Lisbon.

Galen Greenisen, former commissioner, said the improvement "should have been made maybe 10 years ago," due to the dangerous condition of the road and Ritchey's Bridge.

Commissioner Walter Hunston, spoke for his office and said the commissioners are 100 per cent in favor of the improvement.

County Engineer Charles Snyder said "it would be a wonderful improvement" and Columbiana County would get a new bridge across Beaver Creek.

Part of improved Route 30 will be turned over to the County Highway Department for upkeep when the road is completed.

P. Max Gard, president of the commissioners, asked Hunston to speak for the group since part of his land will be used for the new location of Route 30.

Representing the state were William Quicksall, director of Division 11; Edward Elgin, administrative assistant, and Levi (Jack) Kimball, engineer of location and design, all of New Philadelphia.

An informal hearing followed and residents in the vicinity asked questions that were answered by Kimball and Quicksall.

Faculty representatives of schools in the area will serve on the committee of the fair, to be held March 12-14 by the Business & Professional Women's Club.

Students in Grade 7 through 12 in any school in the district are eligible to enter the science fair at which $50 Savings Bonds will be awarded to top winners in 5 divisions.

Two students from each area school will serve on a Teen-Age Science Council to assist at the fair. A meeting of this council is slated Jan. 24 at 1 p. m., Black said.

Chester 'Deports' City Man As Undesirable

A city man, termed undesirable by Chester authorities, was brought over the bridge to East Liverpool Monday after being released from the Chester jail, where he was held overnight.

Special Officer A. T. Campbell jailed the man Sunday night after he found him loafing at the City Hall. Mayor Burton Ward released him yesterday, and directed Campbell to take him back to Ohio in the police cruiser.

Mayor Ward said the man is one of about five such city men who are "persona non grata" or undesirable, in Chester because they loaf around in near vagrancy.

The next meeting will be Feb. 9 at the Rohr home.

Director Aims Bids For Jobs

Police Post Status Conference Planned

Although he is considering Mayor Fred P. Lawrence's request to remain on his governmental post at a reduced salary, Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti was away from his City Hall desk again today for interviews in connection with private employment which he sought before he was asked to withdraw his resignation here.

The director also was scheduled to confer with the Youngstown Civil Service Commission today on an application for reinstatement on the police force there.

Immediately after resigning as director, Maggianetti filed for return to the Youngstown department, where he served 20 years. The commission was to have ruled on his application last week, but delayed action because of a death in the family of one of its members.

Maggianetti was considering several offers of private employment before he was asked over the weekend by the mayor to consider remaining here at a salary of between $6,500 and $7,000, compared to the $9,000 he draws now. He is scheduled to remain on the job here "a week or so" while considering whether to withdraw his resignation, the mayor said yesterday.

Street Crew Patches Minor Blacktop Flaws

A street department crew is continuing work on patching minor cracks and holes in blacktop pavements that developed during severe winter weather, Supt. W. M. Laughlin said today.

The patching already has been completed on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." and work was under way this morning on E. 5th St. at Market St.

The holes and cracks are filled with asphalt, then the patch is covered with a fine grade of slag to prevent the fresh material from being picked up on auto tires, Laughlin said. The mid-winter repairs prevent small breaks in the pavement from being aggravated by repeated freezing and thawing of water, Laughlin added.

And Now It's Gov. DiSalle

The word from Columbus is that Michael V. DiSalle is glad because the preliminaries are over and he can buckle down to work. His fellow Ohioans feel the same way about it. Inauguration day was a long time coming. Gov.-elect DiSalle seemed to have waited in the wings longer than usual.

As governor, he will be out in the center of the stage. And there is no doubt about it; the people put him there. He has prepared himself for this responsibility over a long period of time.

He understands what is expected of a man in public life in a high position, and as far as can be determined at the outset of his four-year term in the governorship his understanding coincides with the views of most of his fellow Ohioans.

THEY THINK he will be a firm administrator, with a sure grasp of policy and personnel.

They think he has taken the measures that were required to show his fellow Democrats that he intends to run their political organization with the same authority he expects to apply to his position as governor.

They think he is suited by temperament and training to steer a course of moderation between extremists; that he will be a middle-of-the-road governor on all matters of administrative judgment.

They think he will retain the sense of proportion that has been his trademark in public life and that sometimes has been misconstrued as nothing more than a sense of humor. Gov. DiSalle has shown many signs in recent years of becoming a political philosopher. He will do well to call on this philosophy whenever things begin to get rough.

THERE IS another trait the incoming governor has which has made many friends for him — "the common touch," as it sometimes is called in politics.

People have found it easy to identify themselves with him because he seemed to be one of them. Historians have noted that Calvin Coolidge possessed this quality to a marked degree. When he was governor of Massachusetts and later when he became president of the United States, his constituents had the feeling they were personally represented in these positions of high authority.

Gov. DiSalle starts his four-year term with these things in his favor. There may be things about the job that will cause him to change, or to seem to be different. That would be unfortunate.

AS MATTERS stand now, at the outset of the first four-year term for an Ohio governor, he appears to have everything he needs to give Ohio strong, moderate leadership.

He has his work cut out for him. He will have his full share of the problems that come to governors. But one of his problems will not be the personality and preparation of Michael V. DiSalle for the job he is tackling.

Assignment For A PR Expert

Settlement of the last of the airline strikes that turned the recent holiday season into a nightmare for air travelers clears the way for a public relations assignment to repair some of the severe damage to the prestige of the most admired occupational group of the aviation era.

The men who sit in the pilots' seats, the mechanism of the modern airplanes and the mechanics who do maintenance work all have had a part in destroying the public's admiration for them as the dedicated selfless servants of the age of flight.

Even though this was done to win a wider margin of occupational security, the effect on public opinion cannot be disregarded. Even the airline stewardess, it turns out, is not immune to the job dissatisfactions that beset us groundlings.

This discovery that people who were considered for so long to be impervious to dissatisfaction was bound to come some time. It happened in other eras to teamsters who drove six-horse spans, to locomotive engineers and to supermen who drove trucks. All of them finally revealed that they did not regard what they were doing with the same sense of high privilege that made their envious admirers hearts beat faster.

Even the supremely lucky people who had jobs with the circus turned out to be as preoccupied with mundane matters as the rest of us, and thereafter the circus was never the same. An illusion was shattered.

It is too bad it had to happen to the heroes of aviation; it takes something away from the fascination of what will continue to be for most of us a thing of glamor and fascination. Henceforth, it will be difficult to forget that our heroes and even our heroines are only workaday people like the rest of us, preoccupied with crass materialism and fringe benefits.

They May Try Again Sometime

The word is out among fashion reporters that the recent epidemic of distortion has quieted down and will not need to be feared in forthcoming styles.

What makes this significant is that credit is being given openly to the lack of enthusiasm among men for the styles that are disappearing. In the past, it didn't matter what men thought about women's styles.

Men, it was assumed, could have no solid influence anyway. They could jibe and jeer if they didn't like a new style, but women would adopt the style slavishly because they did not dare to be out of fashion — and fashion was a matter of decree, not discussion.

But in this instance, something went wrong. Men jibed and jeered, as before. But this time, women listened. They did their own share of jibing and jeering. Many refused to be slaves to the fashion decree.

Many women continued to wear styles that were nominally out of style. It was pointed out that most of the women whose clothes are designed for display on television were skittish about taking up the styles that were under attack. When they did appear in these controversial styles, furthermore, they were given scripts to read that poked fun at their own appearance.

It was a hard jolt to the idea that there can be no appeal from high-fashion decrees. Some couturiers, resentful of Paris influence, described it as a revolt against foreign dictation. Perhaps it was.

But now the word is out, officially, among fashion reporters that new styles will hew to the credo that women should wear styles that make them look like women. It's a safe policy. That robust song from "South Pacific" is right: There is nothing like a dame.

We Hope Dan Stays

It was heartening to learn that there are enough civic-minded people in East Liverpool to cause Dan Maggianetti to pause and reflect before resigning as safety-service director.

In announcing the unexpected turn of events Monday, Mayor Lawrence disclosed that he has been "besieged" with demands that the director be persuaded to remain at the post he has occupied so capably during the last year.

Let's hope the demands impress on Mr. Maggianetti that many, many residents appreciate his efforts on behalf of improved government.

As the mayor so aptly expressed it: "Very important progress was made during Mr. Maggianetti's first year in office. I am convinced that some of the improvements in service and facilities we have in mind can be put into effect with ready public acceptance if he will continue as director."

The Review joins with the others in urging that Dan reconsider, that he remain on the job and that he continue to help advance the program which has been launched under the Lawrence administration.

A Moving Target

Labor Leaders Blister Mikoyan

By Victor Riesel

The gentleman entering the lobby tipped his hat to the lady. That was no lady. That was my sister. That was no gentleman. That was Anastas Mikoyan. He let the elevator door slam in her face without passing on any exclusive statements for me. Then up to the top of the union building he went.

More doors closed — on what became the roughest 2½ hours Russia's second-in-command has had since he shot down Hungarian children in Budapest streets.

The inside story of that visit must be told. It might prove to the nation's capitalists that you've got to rough up a Russian diplomat if you want his respect.

Smooth his red feathers and he'll recall privately that Nicolai Lenin once said that when "we Communists are ready to hang the capitalists, they'll try to outbid each other for the sale of the hemp to us."

The Mikoyan visit to the national headquarters of the International Union of Electrical Workers, led by Jim Carey, began with the Soviet deputy premier reminding the seven labor leaders that he started life as a trade unionist.

THERE WAS some polite conversation. Then Walter Reuther and Jim Carey told Mikoyan bluntly the Russians were way off beam in their anti-capitalist propaganda.

Reuther said, in effect, "You've been using the same old capitalist exploitation propaganda for 50 years. Why don't you change your text books? Why aren't you people realistic?"

"You talk about exploitation of our workers by large corporations like General Motors. Well, here we have the right to battle GM. And we do."

"Your unions are nothing but a production speedup units. We buck GM. Our workers have an average income of some $5,000 a year. We have old age pensions, welfare, hospitalization and fine vacations. You're all wrong. Come off it."

Mikoyan said, "Well, we may be wrong."

Jim Carey then told him how much American labor has progressed since the comrade deputy premier was here in 1936.

"Look around you at this trade union headquarters," Carey said. There are lots of them nearby in Washington.

"We aren't exactly bleeding in the streets, are we? Yet you continue to use the propaganda of big, fat-bellied capitalists with dollar signs on white tuxedo vests. We've come a long way in America."

MIKOYAN REPLIED that he was delighted to see that labor's influence was growing in the U.S. "But why is there no labor party here?" he asked.

Mikoyan's gray face went snowflake white when Carey chortled, "Why is there no capitalist party in Russia?"

It was Joe Beirne's turn. The leader of the Communications Workers told Mikoyan that American labor was behind U.S. foreign policy in such emergencies as Berlin.

He wanted the visiting Russian to know that the U.S.S.R. couldn't divide America's forces simply by attacking Secretary of State Dulles or President Eisenhower. True, many times labor did not agree with the administration. "But," said Joe Beirne, "we in America have the machinery to try and change policies and presidents. Where is it in Russia?"

Somewhere along in these Mikoyan, with a glazed politeness, said that there are no political prisoners in Russia. That anyone can speak up. There are no slave camps. The people are not prosecuted. The American labor leaders could come and see for themselves.

THE REPLY came from the Letter Carriers' Bill Doherty. Could he see Siberia, too? Mikoyan grimly said, "Yes."

Reuther and Carey then hit Mikoyan on all the "crisis bargaining" the Russians love to use. Reuther warned of the capacity of both countries to destroy the world with the new technological warfare. Both nations should be engaged in a common war against hunger, disease and illiteracy. Mikoyan then said swiftly that the Soviets want no war, which is an immoral way of settling differences.

Reuther retorted, "It is easy for the Soviet Union's diplomats to agree on pious phrases while in America. But the Russians never apply it throughout the world."

On the way out Mikoyan did not tip his hat to the lady (she really is) in the lobby. He was eager to head for some capitalists who, he said later, "really understood him."

Johnson Had The Votes

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON Senate Liberals looked amateurish compared with the professionalism of Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas who outmaneuvered their efforts to make it much easier to smash a filibuster.

To make a long story short: When the showdown came they didn't have the votes. Johnson did. Knowing the thoroughness of Johnson, it seems safe to say he had his votes lined up beforehand and the liberals didn't.

What happened would indicate one of two things about the fight they made:

1. Either they were overly optimistic on the support they'd get from the rest of the Senate and didn't make a nose count, or—

2. They knew their chance was slim but decided to go ahead and fight anyway for the sake of the record and to get at least some concessions.

Under the old Senate Rule No. 22 a filibuster could be stopped only by a two-thirds vote of all the senators, or 66 of the 98 senators. A filibuster is a prolonged talking spree whose sole purpose is to prevent some bill or measure from coming to a vote.

Such a two-thirds vote is tremendously difficult to get in the Senate, where so many members traditionally cherish the right — which any one of them might want to use someday — to block a distasteful measure.

In addition, the rule provided no means at all — not even that big two-thirds vote — for stopping a filibuster against a motion to change the rule.

The liberals set out to get the rule changed right at the start of this session of Congress last Wednesday. They wanted it changed to let a simple majority — 50 of the 98 members — stop a filibuster.

But Johnson, leader of the majority Democrats, grabbed the floor right from the start. This was his right, as leader. And he beat the liberals to the punch by proposing that Rule No. 22 be changed this way:

To let a filibuster be stopped — not by the full two-thirds vote of 66 of the 98 senators or by 50 of the 98 — but by a simple two-thirds vote of just those senators present on the floor at voting time.

This may seem lots easier to get. In actual practice, it probably wouldn't be, because on anything so important as breaking a filibuster, most of the senators would be present anyway.

But it was a concession to the liberals. Southern Democrats, who have used the filibuster to block civil rights legislation, didn't like the concessions. It was more than they wanted to yield. It was less than the liberals wanted.

But Johnson, whose job it is to try to keep all the Democratic senators working together during the year on legislation he wants passed, is a master at compromise. What he proposed about the rule change was enough of a compromise to win the votes it needed for adoption.

From the time Johnson made his proposal, the liberals had almost impossible going. The reason: Johnson had made a concession that wouldn't antagonize the Southerners too much and would satisfy those other senators who thought Rule No. 22 ought to be softened a bit but not too much. The result: The liberals were voted down on one attempt after another to get the rules changed to their liking, thus paving the way for overwhelming adoption of Johnson's proposal.

There's no doubt the liberals did a lot of homework: Research on the history of Rule No. 22 and the filibuster. But in the terribly important field of practical politics — votes — whatever they did wasn't enough.

Ringling Words

Eisenhower Speech Indicts Communists

The most sensational section of President Eisenhower's address to Congress last Friday seems not to have made the big headlines in many newspapers in this region. Yet the fact that he said what he did, particularly while Anastas Mikoyan is in this country, can hardly be without considerable significance, especially to the men in the Kremlin — if they really care to learn what is actually blocking a Soviet-American understanding today.

For the President's statement was perhaps the strongest declaration about the Soviet Union made by any president of the United States since the close of World War II. Here are Mr. Eisenhower's exact words:

"We cannot build peace through desire alone. Moreover, we have learned the bitter lesson that international agreements, historically considered by us as sacred, are regarded in Communist doctrine and in practice to be mere scraps of paper."

"The most recent proof of their disdain of international obligations, solemnly undertaken, is their announced intention to abandon their responsibilities respecting Berlin."

"As a consequence, we can have no confidence in any treaty to which Communists are a party except where such a treaty provides within itself for self-enforcing mechanisms. Indeed, the demonstrated disregard of the Communists of their own pledges is one of the greatest obstacles to success in substituting the rule of law for rule by force."

This is the most severe indictment of the Communists that any Western government has made in recent years.

ON TOP of it has just come nevertheless a grandiose proposal from Moscow that "peace talks" over the Berlin issue be held with the 28 governments allied in the last war.

It's the same old game of presenting in a spectacular manner Soviet government supposedly anxious to talk peace and make peace. But there's no evidence that the Communist regime will respect whatever written agreement may be consummated.

President Eisenhower realizes, of course, that the United States, to satisfy world opinion, must exhibit a constant willingness to talk. He adds, therefore, in his message:

"Yet, step by step, we must strengthen the institutions of peace — a peace that rests upon justice — a peace that depends upon a deep knowledge and clear understanding by all peoples, including our own, of the causes and possible consequences of failure in this great purpose."

Thereupon the President sets forth the only guarantee of peace today — armed strength. He says:

"To achieve this peace, we seek to prevent war at any place and in any dimension. If, despite our best efforts, a local dispute should flare into armed hostilities, the next problem would be to keep the conflict from spreading and so compromising freedom. In support of these objectives we maintain forces of great power and flexibility."

"Our formidable air striking forces are a powerful deterrent to general war. Large and growing portions of these units can depart from their bases in a matter of minutes."

SIMILAR FORCES are included in our naval fleets. Ground and other tactical formations can move with swiftness and precision, when requested by friendly and responsible governments, to help curb threatened aggression.

The stabilizing influence of this capacity has been dramatically demonstrated more than once over the past year.

"Our military and related scientific progress has been highly gratifying. Great strides have been made in the development of ballistic missiles. Intermediate-range missiles are now being deployed in operational units. The Atlas intercontinental-ballistic-missile program has been marked by rapid development as evidenced by recent successful tests."

Missile training units have been established and launching sites are far along in construction. New aircraft that fly twice the speed of sound are entering our squadrons."

The significance of this military analysis is the use of those words which indicate what is actually operational today — not what is on the drawing board or in the testing stages.

As of this very day or month, the United States and its allies have the deterrent power to prevent any nuclear attack because the certainty of destruction of any enemy that starts such a war is well known to the Kremlin.

So, with no reliance to be placed on the word of the perfidious Communist regime, the real chance for the change in the whole picture may have to come through economic pressures from Western Europe that will eventually cause a successful uprising inside the Soviet Union and the captive countries contiguous to it.

Only when a free government emerges in Moscow, whose word can be trusted, will "the world be made safe for democracy."

The principle is as sound today as when President Wilson expounded it in his war message of April 1917.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I shared the fun you must have had the other day when you had lunch with our old friend the sailorman. Even though I had a jump of 25 years on him and you, I always thought of him as my friend as well as yours. But don't let his tales of faraway places and outlandish experiences turn you green with envy.

It has happened to you before. It has happened to all of us. I remember it happened to me the last time I saw the sailorman, some 10 years ago. I hated myself for the dull life I had lived. For the next few days, according to your aunt's report, I was unbearable.

I squinted out the window and rolled when I walked. I used salty expressions more closely related to the barnyard than the forecastle, or whatever they call it. I went in for cocoa and products containing palm oil. I became a parlor sailorman.

In my dreams, I was sailing up tropical rivers and watching buxom native gals balancing baskets on their heads. The beat of the tom-tom, the sing-song of fakirs, the tinkle of temple bells and the guttural commands of camel drivers — all that stuff. To say nothing of the throb of steam turbines, the bosun's pipes, hard aport and far to leeward. As your aunt said, it was enough to gag a whale.

You may as well face it like a man. You are not going to ship out on a freighter bound for the African Gold Coast. Neither are you going to be a railroad engineer, a fireman, or an airplane pilot. Opportunity is not going to pass your way. You are going to grind it out in the rut where you are.

Try to realize that our friend the sailorman grinds it out in a rut, too. All that makes his rut look so attractive to you is that you never lived in it. There are times, you can bet, when the sailorman would give his entire collection of sea stories to be sitting down to dinner with his family in a pleasant dining room that did not rock 'n' roll while he was stowing his culinary cargo.

Sour grapes? I suppose so, but also a sense of proportion.

Nothing is as glamorous as it seems to be when we are green with envy. What can be made to seem more glamorous, for example, than show business — spangles, bangles, jingles and bingles? But even the rankest outsider knows about the seamy side of show business, because show-business people talk about it endlessly. For every hour they spend in the spotlight being glamorous, they spend a month hoping and working for a moment of glory that may never come.

I will concede one thing, that when it does come it must be wonderfully gratifying. Most of us, never have even one moment of glory. We spend our lives grinding and grunting in obscurity.

That is why middle-aged men disappear without trace. It's why boys run away; they're afraid of what they see ahead. Kids used to join carnivals and circuses. They used to go to sea — anything to get a taste of what they thought would be glamor.

I don't blame you for being jealous of our friend the sailorman. I feel jealous myself. I'd like to be able to say something offhand about Ghana, or give an offhand opinion about the Gold Coast. I'd like to stare at a dockside watcher when my ship tied up and go ashore somewhere so far from anywhere that everything would be strange. Ho, hum. I'll set the thermostat and go to bed, instead. Regards to all the family. Cotton Corners UNCLE GEORGE

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I've been married 8 years and I'm having trouble with my wife. We have a 7-year-old boy and I'm trying hard for his sake to keep the home together.

My wife took a job as "Bar-belle." (This is a new one on me, too. It's a girl who carries the drinks from the bar to the tables.) She wears a short skirt, black lace stockings and a tight satin blouse which is low in the front. This is her uniform but I don't think it's a proper outfit for a wife and mother.

She took the job for fun. We don't need the money. Her new friends are a pack of divorced girls. They have poor reputations and look like tramps.

My wife's hours are from 7 p.m. to 3 a.m. so I'm at home every night with the boy. She throws dinner on the table and runs out the door. Some mornings she doesn't come in until 7 a.m.

I've talked to her father and he says to let her get the running around out of her system. What is your opinion?—TIED.

You'll be out of your mind before your wife "gets the running around out of her system." Since you don't need the extra money and this job is knocking your marriage to pieces, I suggest you have a frank talk with your wife and tell her she can choose between the two.

Any woman who'd rather chase around with low characters and spend every night balancing martinis in a smoke-filled bistro doesn't deserve the status of wife and mother. Maybe a few months of this routine as a steady diet and living alone in a rented room will open her eyes.

Too Much, Too Soon

Dear Ann: I'm 13 years old and my life is already ruined. My parents won't let me date.

A certain male person has asked me to attend the movies with him but my father made a law that I can't go with male people until I am in high school. This is almost two years away and I don't think I'll be able to stand it.

I know several girls my age who can go on dates. I think my folks are being very unfair.

Please say something to help me out of this prison before I dry up. Thank you.—TRUDY.

Dear Trudy: Thirteen years old and already heading for the Old Folk's Home? I'm sorry but I can't give you much help, chicken. Dating should begin in high school and not before. Tell the boy to ask you again in a couple of years.

Keep 'Em Guessing

Dear Ann: This may sound like a minor problem to you but it has troubled me for a long time. I hope you can help.

When I am with people, I talk too much. I get nervous and rat-

5 Due To Talk At Testimonial

Tribute To Director Scheduled Tonight

Although Safety - Service Director Dan Maggiani is reconsidering his resignation, which was to take effect Monday, the East Liverpool Ministerial Association went ahead with plans for a testimonial dinner for him tonight at 6:30 at the Travelers Hotel.

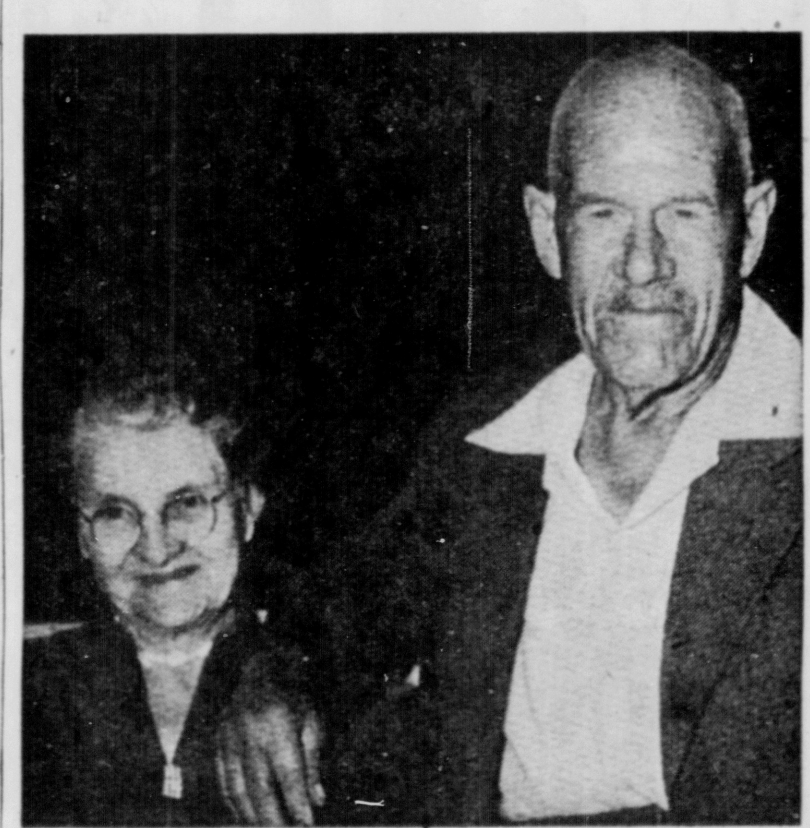

Five speakers are scheduled to pay tribute to the director for his work in the year he has been the top executive officer in Mayor Fred P. Lawrence's administration.

They are: Dr. D. Finley Wood of the First Methodist Church, John Mostoller, pastor of the First Church of Christ, Mrs. Clarence Keller, chairman of the United Church Women of East Liverpool, and Joseph W. Cooper and William B. Cooper, laymen from the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church.

A crowd of about 80 is expected, including ministers, laymen and representatives of the United Church Women from each congregation. Presiding will be the Rev. Russell C. Owens of the Second Presbyterian Church, president of the Ministerial Association.

The Ministerial Association first announced plans for the testimonial Friday. The mayor announced yesterday Maggiani will remain on his job "for a week or so" to reconsider his resignation on an offer to remain at a reduced salary. The present rate of pay is $9,000, but the mayor said he cleared with Council the possibility of Maggiani remaining at a salary of $6,500 to $7,000.

Couple At Murdocksville To Mark Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Cain of Murdocksville will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house Saturday from 1 to 4 and 7 to 9 o'clock.

Until his retirement 15 years ago, he was an employee of the South Penn Oil Co. for approximately 30 years. Mrs. Cain, a daughter of Ed and Ada Ingfield, will be 70 on her next birthday. Her husband, son of David and Hannah Cain, will be 80.

They were married in Pittsburgh Jan. 16, 1909, and are members of the Hebron Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Cain is an active member of the Women's Society of the Frankfort Presbyterian Church. There are 8 children and 22 grandchildren.

Sons and daughters include: Mrs. Ruth Ralston, 2163 Harvey Ave., Mrs. Mabel Woods of Glenmoor, Mrs. Edna Wolfe of Lisbon, Mrs. Martha Lilly of Ambridge, Donald Cain of Pughtown, Clyde Cain of Aliquippa, Norman Cain of Frankfort Springs and Ralph Cain of Burgettstown.

Fire Sweeps Lord Hall On Ohio State Campus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fire swept through Lord Hall on the Ohio State University campus today, causing "considerable" damage.

The three-alarm blaze was brought under control shortly before 8 a.m., about two hours after the first alarm was turned in by a janitor who discovered the flames.

University officials were unable to make an immediate estimate of loss. The walls of the structure were still standing but the interior was partially gutted.

Lord Hall, a three-story brick building, is in the northern section of the campus and houses the mining, mineralogy, and ceramic departments.

2 Amish Schools Face Fight With Ohio And Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two Amish-operated high schools appear headed for a long battle with the State of Ohio and the State School Board over minimum educational standards.

E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, Monday gave the school board a report which stated the two schools of the Menonite religious sect, known as the "Old Order Amish," do not meet the state's minimum standards.

The board, by a 19-2 vote, approved a resolution confirming the department's findings and called on the State Department of Education to give "all lawful assistance to local authorities in the enforcement of minimum standards, whether through school attendance laws or any other appropriate means."

The resolution thus put the responsibility of enforcing the standards on the local school superintendents.

Wellsville Men Hear Pastor From Chester

The Rev. Paul Brooks of Chester discussed the meaning and qualifications for being a Methodist man at a meeting of the Methodist Men of the Central Methodist Church of Wellsville Monday night. Eighteen were present.

Ralph Brewer of Chester screened slides of the 1957 Boy Scout Jamboree. Fire Chief Robert Lewis conducted devotions.

Ray Dickey and Larry Nusser, president, were in charge of refreshments. Harold Driggs directed music.

Teacher Is Cleared

CLEVELAND (AP)—A school teacher accused of making an obscene telephone call to a 22-year-old woman has been cleared in municipal court. Roy Englert, 33, who lives in Massillon and teaches in Summit County, was charged with disorderly conduct. Judge James E. Sweeney dismissed the case for lack of evidence. Police reported the call was made last October. The woman made a date with Englert. Police accompanied her and arrested him.

Donations Made To Schools By Wellsville DAR Chapter

Contributions were given to two DAR-operated schools by the Bethesda Southwick Chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution when it met Friday night for a dinner at Patti's Tea Room in Wellsville.

They are the Tamassee (N.C.) School and the Kate Duncan Smith School at Grant, Ala. The chapter also donated to the scholarship fund of St. Mary's Indian High School at Springfield, S. D. A donation was also voted for the binding of DAR genealogical records at the library in Washington and to the library fund.

Mrs. Carolyn Vogel, regent, presided over the ritual and business. Mrs. Ford S. Ball, acting chaplain, led devotions, using Ps. 96 and a prayer by Max Ehrmann. Mrs. Alma Jones, flag chairman, led the flag salute and the singing of the national anthem was led by Mrs. Isabel Hart.

Mrs. Vogel and Mrs. Mary Green were elected delegates to the state conference in Columbus March 23-25. Alternates are Mrs. Herman Feustel and Mrs. Ball. Elected to the Continental Congress at Washington April 20-25 were Mrs. Robert Faulk and Mrs. Vogel.

The regent talked on national defense, concerning the Walter McCarron immigration act, and also the smear campaign against J. Edgar Hoover. Mrs. Nellie Dunlop of East Liverpool screened slides of her visit through Scotland and many members traced their ancestry from different sections she visited. Board Views Sketches For New Additions

Architect Displays Designs For Beaver District Construction

Preliminary sketches for additions to six Beaver Local schools, as part of a building expansion program, were presented by Robert Beatty, city architect, at a meeting of the Beaver Local Board of Education Monday night.

Beatty showed plans for additions to the Public School, Calcutta, high school, Rogers, Elkton and West Point Schools. A combination bond issue — levied last month will provide local and state funds for the work.

An orientation session on the building program will be attended by board members, Beatty and school officials Wednesday at Columbus.

The board also discussed the disposal of the Clarkson School, closed last year with the opening of the new Public School. Clarkson students attend first through fourth grade at Rogers or Oak Grove Schools.

Mrs. Arlene Richardson of Smithfield St. was hired as third grade teacher at Rogers, replacing Mrs. Virginia Hall who resigned to move West.

A salary increase was granted Mrs. Donna Campbell, Calcutta teacher, because of additional education training. Bus driver certificates were authorized for Arthur Pritchard of Sprucevale Rd. and Andrew Lepock of Signal, making them eligible as substitute drivers.

A discussion was held with Fred Dailey and John Brown, owners of the L. & M. Hardware Co., concerning the inadvertent construction of Calcutta School seepage beds on their adjoining property. Further study will be made of the mistaken use of the land — about 5,000 square feet — since 1949, and efforts will be made for a possible exchange of property to compensate.

The rental of the high school gymnasium was authorized for the Columbiana County basketball tournament Feb. 18-21. County Supt. James L. McBride discussed a scholarship program.

The next meeting will be Jan. 26.

Amharic is spoken in Ethiopia.

Weirton Man Heads Jurors

11 Indictments Will Be Asked In Hancock

Fred Kistner of Weirton was appointed foreman of the Grand Jury who convened this morning at 10 in Hancock County Circuit Court at New Cumberland for the January term.

Following a charge to the 16-member panel by Judge J. Harold Brennan, the jurors retired at 10:30 to hear information presented by Prosecutor Frank A. Pietrantoni, who is seeking indictments against 11 persons.

In his charge, Judge Brennan explained duties of serving with the Grand Jury and told the panel if it knows of any crimes it is a duty to investigate.

Indictments sought include cases of three men from Aliquippa charged with the kidnapping, rape and armed robbery of a Chester woman in August.

Donald Lane, Robert Wilson and Wilbur Smith are being held by Federal authorities at Wheeling but probably will be placed in the County Jail at New Cumberland tomorrow by sheriff's deputies.

Serving with the grand jury from the northern section of the county are James E. Elliott, Emerson W. Ridinger and Commodore E. Rector, all of Chester; Alvin H. Thornberry and Clyde Rayburn, both of Newell, and John T. Thompson, Otto N. Price and Stanley Mosser of New Cumberland.

Other Weirton jurors are Mrs. Mary Ceraolo, Anthony Loucas, William O. Anderson, Standard Chapman, David Jennings, Raymond Moore and Willie Burns.

Ex-Hancock Deputy Heads Weirton Police

WEIRTON — R. A. ("Bert") Byers, former chief deputy sheriff of Hancock County, will assume his duties Friday as Weirton's new chief of police following appointment by Mayor Samuel Kusic and unanimous approval by City Council Monday night.

Byers, presently employed in the Weirton Steel Co.'s industrial relations department, succeeds David Reese who resigned as of Jan. 1 but agreed to stay on until a new chief was appointed.

The Byers appointment is for six months as it terminates July 1 when a new administration will take office. He will then have to be re-appointed.

A motion was made by Councilman Bernard Kelly that council go on record as commending Reese for his 11 1/2 years of service both as a patrolman and as police chief. He had been chief for three and one-half years, appointed by Mayor Kusic. He indicated he has obtained local employment.

Hal March Serves As Guest Columnist

Because Miss Torre refused to reveal the source of a news item that appeared in her column, she has been sentenced to 10 days in jail. While she is away, her friends in television are writing guest columns.

By HAL MARCH

In the last few months there has been a good deal written about the TV networks' failing to meet their obligations to the public. Having been in the business of entertainment for 20 years in one capacity or another, and having been witness to the problems of the decision makers of the business, I feel I must come to the defense of the networks. The cry has been that there is an obvious "lack of inventiveness and diverse programming" since TV's birth.

To a great extent this is true, but one must remember that under the American system of broadcasting the networks are virtually a market place for the ideas of advertising agencies or the sponsors they represent.

PROPOSED SHOWS are brought to market and they are given to the public to sample. If the public buys these shows, they become an item on the shelves (or broadcast hours). True, the networks in most cases can reject the ideas, but being in the business of bringing entertainment to the public, they must be open-minded, perceptive, clairvoyant, show-wise and then hope for the best.

Now, one of the containers for immortality hits—let's say "Gunsmoke," "Lucy," or even "64,000 Question." The networks at this point have met their obligation to the public. They have presented entertainment of high caliber. Unfortunately, though, there are still a number of hours to be filled and therein lies the rub.

BECAUSE EACH of the networks is faced with the frightening task of offering high-grade entertainment for 18 hours every day, it becomes literally impossible to avoid a "lack of inventiveness and diverse programming."

Invariably the ageless bromide, "Don't fool with success," becomes the battle cry and there follows a string of copies of the original hits and ultimately the basis for criticism.

It must be understood that the blame for this does not lie solely with the networks. They, in addition to recognizing their obligation to the public, are in the business of selling time. If their programming departments reject all but a few of the sponsor's choice of programs, copies or not, they will find themselves bankrupt.

It should be said here that the problem of the sponsor is by no means a light one, either. When one realizes that the cost of an average half-hour show is approximately $100,000, it is easy to understand that the sponsor wants to take as few chances as possible with anything other than an established successful formula.

BUT BACK to the networks and their alleged conscienceless output of mediocrity.

This is not a new story. The same state of affairs existed in radio because of the same pressures, namely, 19 hours to fill. When motion pictures were at their peak, that industry bore the same cross. Instead of hours to fill, they had hundreds of thousands of theaters to supply every week, and is there a man jack among us who doesn't remember some of the cinema stinkers that we paid to see?

The simple truth of the matter is that when the demand is greater than the supply, there must necessarily follow a lessening of quality. This obvious bit of observation holds true for fashion, restaurants, automobiles, etc., so why not for theatrical inspiration?

THE TV BLASTERS are dealing with men's minds and nothing else. If they can devise a way of impressing these minds with great new ideas, forcing them to blossom and be executed every half hour for 18 hours every day, let them be assured that the networks will see to it that they are knighted, made wealthy and enshrined in color tubes.

Obviously there is a slight shortage of truly fine programs on TV, but certainly not a dearth. As long as shows like "Playhouse 90," Edward R. Murrow, Sports Events, Groucho Marx, Fred Astaire and other great stars in specials, Omnibus, Phil Silvers weekly, Sid Caesar occasionally, Gleason when we can get him, Perry Como, Dinah Shore, "Meet the Press," and countless others, illuminate our living rooms some of the time, I, for one, am willing to spend the rest of the time talking with my family and friends and reading while I wait for the networks to see the error of their ways and try to improve on the magnificent job they've done thus far.

Newell Man Nominated For Teaching Award

Jack W. Furbee of Newell, a member of the New Cumberland High School faculty, has been nominated as a "Teacher of the Year" candidate by two New Cumberland women's organizations.

Furbee, who plans to enter the ministry, will be entered in the state federation contest by the Young Women's Club and the Women's Club of New Cumberland. The clubs combined their project in the nomination.

Furbee coached the New Cumberland dramatic class which won state honors last year in the annual scholastic contest.

State Gave $197,079 For County Relief Aid

Columbiana County received $197,079 in poor relief funds from the state in 1958, according to State Auditor James Rhodes who said the total state distribution hit a record high last year.

Reflecting hardships of the recession last year, payments by the state totaled $47,676,740. In 1957, the state distributed $32,383,726 in poor relief.

Bread Prices In District Due For Hike Soon

Homemakers probably will feel another tug on the family purse strings when they go to the grocery store today because of a price increase on bread at both the wholesale and retail levels. The raise is expected to total 2 cents. A cent-a-loaf increase at the wholesale level has been announced officially by two bakeries serving the East Liverpool area and four others, including Goddard Bakers, Inc., of Chester, are expected to follow suit. Another penny is expected to be added to the price by the grocers. Present prices are 20 and 23 cents a loaf.

The General Baking Co., baker of Bond Bread, was the first to hike prices. The firm made the announcement Saturday, Monday, Nickles Bakery in Martins Ferry announced its raise. The Continental Baking Co., baker of Wonder Bread, said it will announce a decision on an increase today or Wednesday.

Alfred Bowen, president, said that if the rest raise the price, Goddard will do the same, probably Thursday.

Three other Wheeling area bakers also announced plans to follow the increase.

Grocers have indicated that they cannot absorb the increased wholesale price as in the past and will tack on an additional penny. Baking officials cited rising labor costs and increased cost of ingredients and production.

Park Board Re-Elects McKinstry And Quilter

EAST PALESTINE — George T. McKinstry, chairman of the City Park Commission, was named to a second term at a re-organization meeting of the Commission Sunday afternoon.

Paul Morris was elected vice chairman. J. Russell Biggins, secretary, was returned and Thomas Quilter, park commissioner, was retained for the 13th year.

Plans were discussed for construction of a new concession stand, separate from the bathhouse, where the present stand is located.

Work completed at the park recently included re-painting of the large pavilion and pouring of concrete under picnic tables.

Beaver Woman Jailed For Illegal Operations

A Beaver County woman was arrested Saturday by County Detectives Russell Meskow and John Italia for performing illegal operations on tri-state women.

Dr. Florence Young of Gypsy Glenn Rd., Beaver, readily admitted performing an operation on a Jamestown, N. Y., woman, among others authorities said.

She was released from jail after posting bond for a hearing. County authorities were notified by Jamestown police that a woman was in serious condition there from an abortion said to have been performed by a Beaver County woman.

Dr. Young has no medical degree, the detectives said, but does have a limited practitioner's certificate for massage. Instruments found at her home were confiscated.

Polish Lodge Installs New Officers For Year

Installation of officers, headed by Stanley Smusz, was conducted by Thomas Smusz at a meeting of the Chester Polish Lodge Sunday afternoon at the lodge hall of 3rd St. Ext.

A financial report was given by Isadore Pecka, and a report on the recent Christmas party was given by Mrs. Mary Juszczak. Plans were discussed for a dance to be held later this month. The next meeting will be Feb. 8.

Hancock Seal Workers Ask More Money

Hancock County Tuberculosis League workers are making a determined effort to obtain funds through voluntary donations this week after a weekend meeting revealed that the annual Christmas Seal sales campaign fell over $700 short of a goal of $6,500.

Mrs. R. S. Meighen of Weirton, president, reported the sales campaign netted only $5,730.55 of its goal. Funds will be used by the league to carry on its health program in the county during 1959.

Mrs. Meighen added that follow-up cards are being sent to residents who received Christmas seals through the mails but did not contribute to the campaign.

The seal sales drive in Weirton netted $4,362.05, it was reported. Mrs. George Gogal reported a total of $551 collected in Newell, and $500 was collected in New Cumberland, according to Mrs. Thomas Williamson, chairman. Mrs. F. N. Richmond, chairman in Chester, said she had received $235 in seal sales funds, while Mrs. L. J. Richmond reported $82.50 raised in Pughtown.

The group met over the weekend in the home of Mrs. Meighen of Weirton. A. P. Watson, former secretary of the league now residing in California, was a guest.

Unemployment Service Cuts Midland Schedule

Because of a decreasing number of claims, the Midland sub-office of the Pennsylvania Unemployment Service will be open only on Tuesdays and Thursdays starting next week, Francis Cameron, manager of the Rochester office, announced today.

Cameron said the office had been open on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays but the days were being changed because of a lower number of claims.

Claimants whose Social Security numbers end in digits from 9 to 5 should report on Tuesdays and those with numbers ending in 6 to 9 were asked to report on Thursdays.

The office hours will be from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Crucible's Credit Union Slates Election Jan. 22

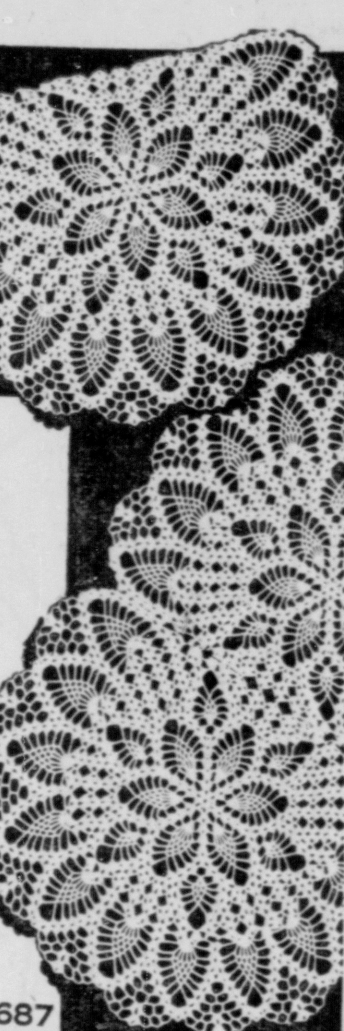

Some 3,300 members of the CSAM Federal Credit Union of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. are eligible to vote for six directors and three committee-men Jan. 22 at the union's 24th annual meeting.

Nile Wain, president, said the election will be held at 8 p. m. in the First Presbyterian Church social rooms.

He said a dividend will be declared and a review will be made of past work and future plans. Committeemen to be elected include two members to the credit committee and one to the supervisory committee.

A date will be set for an election of officers who will be chosen from the new directors.

Wellsville Event's Thursday

Speaker For Chamber
To Be Power Plant Head

Glenn B. Curran, guest speaker for the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce annual membership meeting Thursday night, will become superintendent of the Ohio Edison Co.'s new power plant being constructed at Stratton.

Production operations engineer for Ohio Edison of Akron, he will discuss procedures in generating power at the multi-million dollar facility that is nearing completion.

Curran, a resident of Youngstown, will become superintendent of the company's Stratton power plant when it is completed. He will outline operating procedures of the plant.

A native of Sharon, Curran was graduated from Youngstown Rayen High School in 1920 and attended Brown University for a year.

He is a registered professional engineer in Ohio and a member of the Mahoning Valley Society of Professional Engineers.

He was employed by the Pennsylvania & Ohio Power & Light Co. in 1923 as a test engineer at the firm's Lowellville plant. He was promoted to efficiency engineer at Lowellville in 1926 and named a general engineer in the production department in 1929.

Curran continued in his position when the Penn. Ohio became a part of Ohio Edison in 1930. In 1933, he was named superintendent of Edison's North Ave. steam

In 1953, he was named superintendent of the Niles plant while remaining in charge at Youngstown. He was named to his present position in 1957.

The dinner event will be held at 6:30 at the First Methodist Church.

Intruders Get
$9 At GroceryClothing, Luggage
Taken From Auto

Thieves made off with $9 in cash after breaking into the Williams Grocery, 932 St. Clair Ave., Saturday night or early Sunday, police reported.

The theft was one of four reported over the weekend. The others were thefts from autos, they added.

Jean Williams, the grocery operator, said the cash included $6 in bills and $3 in change.

Police said entrance was gained by breaking a pane of glass in a rear door and then unlocking it.

A brown suitcase, a brown leather jacket, two pairs of gray trousers and a sports jacket were taken from a car owned by Joe Kiger of Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. while it was parked on W. 5th St. between 7:30 and 7:40 p. m. Sunday.

Gordon Skelton, 2121 St. Clair Ave., told officers two radio aerials and four windshield wipers were stolen from two cars parked in his driveway Saturday night.

Thieves let the air out of tires of both cars, he said.

Albert Hampson of Shadyside Ave. told officers two fender skirts were taken from his car parked on Shadyside Ave. between 9:30 and 11 p. m. Saturday.

Chester Powell, 902 St. Clair Ave., told officers a radio antenna was taken from his car parked in the Community Parking lot between 7:30 and 10:30 p. m. Sunday.

4 Regional Offices Set Up To Combat Crime

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department has created four regional offices to assemble data in connection with a long-range nationwide program to combat syndicated crime and organized racketeering.

Reporting this today, department officials said field offices are now functioning in New York City, Chicago, Los Angeles and Miami.

It is understood that in some areas under the jurisdiction of these offices, grand juries have been convened or will be called shortly to assist investigators in assembling information.

Officials are not discussing what general results have been obtained.

75 Students Take
Scholarship Tests

LISBON — Thirty-seven boys and 38 girls took a general scholarship test here Saturday for high school seniors in the upper 40 per cent of their classes.

There were 30-minute examinations in math, English, history, science and reading. The upper 10 per cent in the state have a good chance to get scholarships, school officials said. Seniors from Lisbon, Salineville, Fairfield - Waterford, United Local, Beaver Local and Leetonia took the examinations at Lisbon High School.

Three agriculture examinations also were given to seniors from Lisbon, United and Leetonia.

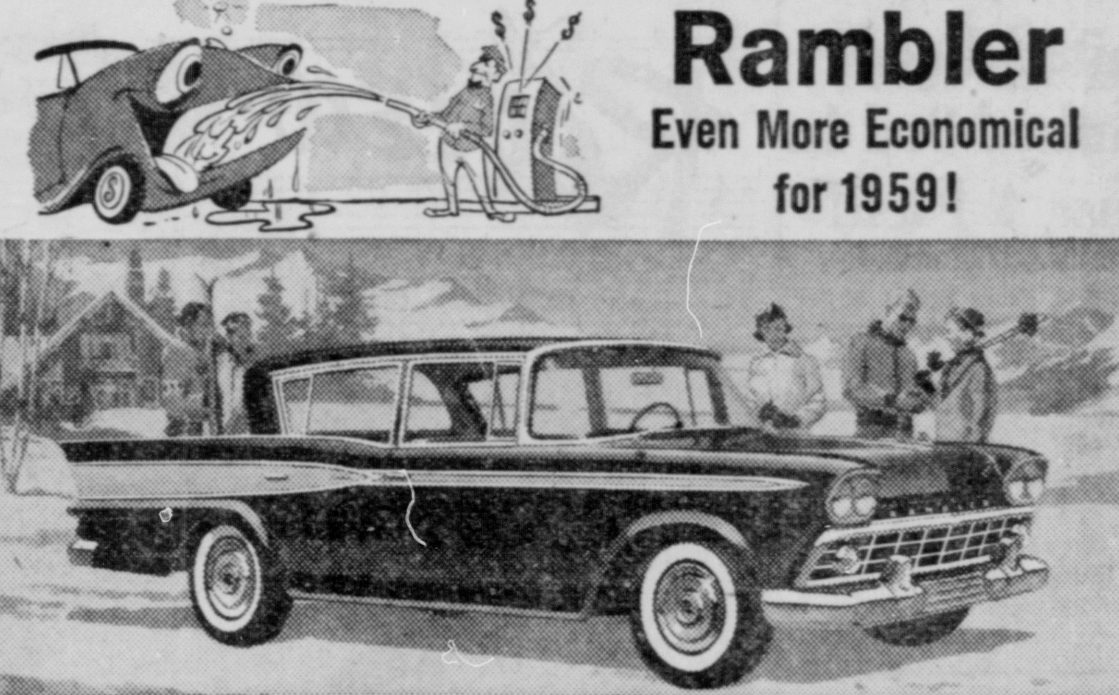

County Supt. James L. McBride was general chairman, assisted by Principals Ralph Myers of Fairfield-Waterford, Lee Kirkland of Beaver Local and Dan Friedberg of Leetonia.

Panel Of City PTA Federation
Discusses Citizenship Training

Citizenship training was discussed at the meeting of the City Federation of Parent-Teacher Organizations Monday night in the library of Westgate School.

Judson English was moderator for a panel comprised of Mrs. Marjorie Birbeck, Mrs. Nelson Wright, B. E. Warner and Supt. Ralph Betts.

The discussion centered on the relationship between school and home, showing discipline resting not primarily on either parent or teacher but both.

The value of the Student Council was stressed, providing the young people a choice in settling school problems. The importance of the Child Counseling Center, which has been beneficial to the community in solving situations beyond the help of the teacher, also was cited. The panel concluded with the summary that young people must be taught to have a responsibility toward the community of which they are a part.

Mrs. Ruth Diddle was program chairman.

Business was conducted by Mrs. Lester Hall, president, during which reports were given by Mrs. Donald Alexander and Mrs. Ruth Armstrong.

The attendance award was won by McKinley School. Other schools represented were Garfield, Horace Mann, Klondyke, LaCroft, Lincoln, Neville, Taft, Pleasant Heights and Westgate.

Mrs. Joseph Williams was appointed as a delegate from Neville School.

The next meeting will be Feb. 9 at the school library and the topic for the panel discussion will be selected by the program committee, Donald Hancock, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Diddle.

Ailing Revivalist Heads Today
For Mayo Clinic Appointment

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Ailing revivalist Billy Graham heads today for an appointment with Mayo Clinic specialists. Cautioned by Vice President Richard M. Nixon to "get some rest," he still plans a crusade in Australia.

But he is postponing the start by at least a week and is not sure whether he will be able to go through with other projected visits on a world tour.

The 40-year-old preacher may learn this week the cause of an ailment that has left him with only 50 per cent vision in his left eye. It has been described as a "rare and serious condition" by his father-in-law, a doctor.

Graham spent the night in a downtown Minneapolis hotel and plans to motor the 80 miles to the Rochester, Minn., clinic sometime today. With him will be members of his evangelistic team. "I am sure I will recover and I have every expectation of going to Australia," Graham said. "But we have definitely canceled a meeting at the Hula Bowl in Hawaii that was set for later this month and we will have to postpone the start of the Australian crusade at Melbourne from Feb. 8 to Feb. 15."

Arriving by air Monday night from Dallas, Tex., Graham told newsmen he received a telephone call earlier in the day from Nixon in Washington, advising him to get as much rest as possible.

"He told me from personal experience he knew it was possible to win a battle and lose the war," Graham said.

Graham's trouble was described by an associate as a ruptured blood vessel behind the retina of the left eye. Dr. R. Nelson Bell, his father-in-law, advised Australian officials from Montreal, N. C., Monday that Graham's condition was rare and serious, brought on by overwork.

15 Ohio Schools
Get Warning On State Standards

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Fifteen high schools have a few more days before their charters may be revoked on charges of failing to meet minimum state educational standards.

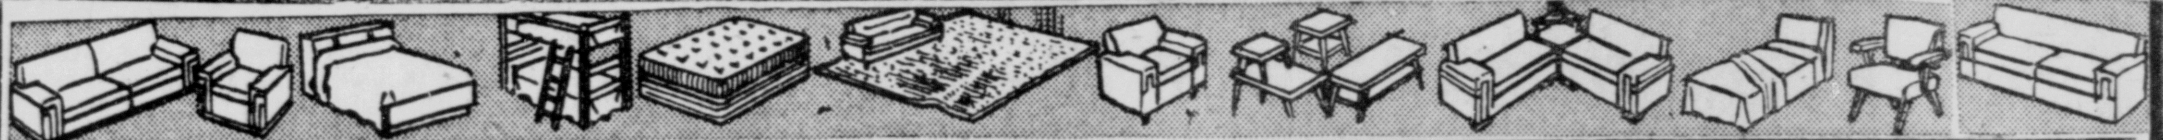

E. H. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, had planned to recommend the revocations at the state board of education meeting here Monday, but he withdrew his recommendation temporarily pending additional steps under the Administrative Procedures Act.

His department must draw up resolutions calling for revocations of licenses, and public hearings must be held before action to revoke the charters can be taken.

The 15 high schools involved, and their home county: Jefferson, in Adams County; Byrd, Brown County; Moscow, Clermont County; Jefferson, Clinton County; Plainfield, Coshocton County; Whetstone, Crawford County; Marshall, Highland County; Carbon Hill, Brookbridge, Gibsonville, South Bloomingville, all in Hocking County; Amity, Knox County; Quincy, Logan County and Martel, Marion County.

Another six high schools are being continued on temporary charters pending action to better their standards. They are Albany in Athens County, Fulton in Fulton County, Greenwich in Huron County, Howard in Knox County, Waterloo and Windsor in Lawrence County.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 1958 champions—Class AA Cleveland East Tech and Class A Northwestern of Wayne County—still reign as kings of Ohio high school basketball.

Here's Sports Editors' Rating Of Ohio Quints

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here's how 37 sports editors rate Ohio's high school basketball teams today in the first Associated Press poll of the season.

Shown are the first place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc basis, and the won-lost records of the leaders:

the opening Associated Press poll. The winning margins of both were terrific.

East Tech, with eight straight wins this year, has a victory streak of 34 over two seasons. Northwestern, unbeaten in 11 starts this campaign, boasts 39 straight conquests.

The Cleveland Scarabs clinched the top spot Friday by handing Cleveland Cathedral Latin its first loss in eight starts by a convincing 69-42 count. Tech picked up 16 of the 37 first place votes and 311 poll points on the 10-9-8-etc basis, to outclass second-place Elyria which garnered 204 as a result of 11 straight victories.

Middletown, which led last year's poll all the way, barely made the top 10 this time, winding up tenth with an 8-3 record. Springfield, 11 points back as the final period started, defeated the Middies 58-55 Saturday night. It was the first Greater Ohio League loss in 32 starts for the Butler County ex-champions, and Springfield's first verdict over Paul Walker's proteges since 1954.

Geneva Spencer, which has allowed the foe an average of only 30.5 points in winning 10 straight, finished second in the Class A division poll, in which the voting was sparse.

From Here and There: While three defeated teams made the Class A top 10, a host of perfect record squads failed to land among the elite. They include Convey Union (14), Perry-Zane and Quincy (Logan County) (11), Darby Twp., and Locust Grove (10), Columbus Rosary (9), and Berlin Heights and New Boston (8).

Five of the double-A teams have been beaten, but made the top 10. Xenia Central with 10 straight, Copley with 9, and Bexley of Columbus and Valley of Scioto County with 8 each, failed to make the grade.

Hamilton Catholic has a 1-8 record, but all the defeats except one were by six points or less, and all the losses came in the final two minutes. In three straight, the Hamiltons lost to Cincinnati DePorres with five seconds to play, to Covington (Ky.) Catholic with Newport's John Pritchett, a 6-4 junior, scored 40 points twice last week and is averaging 30 for 10 games. Marietta's Frank Christie has a 25.2 average.

Newark Central Catholic (it was St. Francis last year) lists five Class AA teams among its 10 victims. Portsmouth stopped Ironton 80-59 Friday, its first win over the Ironmen in three seasons. Bob Hanev of Valley (Scioto) scored 51 Friday, a new school record for the 6-3 senior.

Upper Sandusky has an 8-1 record, the loss being a one-pointer to Willard. Upper is averaging 74 to 48 for the foe. Youngstown Chagway (9-1) was beaten only by Charleroi, Pa., the defending Western Pennsylvania champs who are unbeaten in 12 games.

Mansfield St. Peter, playing its first year of basketball, lost six of its first seven but has a five-game winning streak on the fire now. Jerry Schrock, 6-2 senior, scored for Green Springs of Sandusky County, tops the county league with a 31.3 average.

East Liverpool, usually potent on the hardwoods, is in the doldrums of a 1-8 campaign—but in Ken Cunningham, a 5-10 guard, boasts a sharpshooter who has been over 22 points four times, including one rousing 34.

3 Area Gridders Win Geneva College Awards

An East Liverpool griddier and two others from Midland have been awarded football letters at Geneva College.

Landis Morgan of East Liverpool was among the juniors who received awards, while Bill Monahan and Mike Raich, former Leopard standouts, were in the freshman contingent.

Geneva had five wins, three losses and one tie and finished second in the Western Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. There were no seniors on the team.

Dick Williams of Baltimore handled 153 outfield chances without an error in 1958. This year he is with Kansas City.

Game 'Feeler' Turned Down At Wellsville

The Wellsville Board of Education Monday night decided against any resumption of football relations with East Liverpool High School at this time because of the difference in enrollment figures of the two schools.

The matter was brought up by board president Earl Bake as the result of an informal discussion with Head Coach Lou Venditti of the Potlows.

Bake said he had received a phone call from Venditti in which the coach suggested a Thanksgiving game between the two teams this coming season.

Venditti offered to play either the night before Thanksgiving or Thanksgiving morning, Bake said. The last East Liverpool - Wellsville game was in 1952.

The board members concluded that a school with the enrollment of East Liverpool is too large for Wellsville. Bake explained that because of the many factors involved, the situation appeared to be a matter for the board to handle. Ordinarily scheduling of games comes under the jurisdiction of the Athletic Board.

Bake pointed out that while both schools generally made money on the game, it was not worth taking the risk of player injuries.

Richard Rowe, a member, said the morning game would interfere with union church services. Donald Wellington, another member, called East Liverpool "out of our class." Supt. S. E. Daw pointed out East Liverpool ranked high in state school enrollment.

The board also recommended to the Athletic Board that Wellsville, for the present, schedule only teams with enrollment comparable to its own.

Wellington suggested that members consider dropping Salem from the schedule.

Football teams from East Liverpool and Wellsville have met 48 times since 1904. East Liverpool won 25, Wellsville 18 and 5 ended in ties.

After a scoreless tie in 1944, East Liverpool won next eight games in a row. The 1952 contest went to the Potlows 62-6.

Beaver Local Juniors Post 39-36 Cage Win

Beaver Local Junior High School evened its basketball record with three wins and as many defeats in triumphing over North Lima Junior High School, 39-36, Monday night at the Beavers' gymnasium.

Ralph Dawson hit for 12 points and Dave Myers and Dave Morse 10 each in leading the Beaver scoring attack. Wilson's nine were high for the losers.

In the preliminary attraction, North Lima's sixth graders trounced Beaver Local's sixth grade No. 2 team, 33-5.

San Francisco's Giants lost three season series in 1958. They lost 16 of 22 games to Milwaukee. They had a 10-12 record with both the Pirates and Cubs.

Cincy, 'Big O' Extended In Overtime Game, 64-56

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

An unpublicized team from Denton, Tex. had the basketball world taking notice today following a stirring performance that resulted in a relatively poor night for Oscar Robertson and a near upset of the Cincinnati Bearcats.

As it turned out, little North Texas State lost to sixth-ranked Cincinnati 64-56 in overtime. But not before the Bearcats had come within inches of defeat.

With only six seconds remaining and the score deadlocked 49-49 in regulation time, a shot by Rod Byrd of North Texas State hit the rim and bounced away.

Robertson was held to 19 points until he added seven free throws and one field goal in the overtime for 28 points.

Cincinnati was one among four teams in the top 10 to see action Monday night.

Kentucky, which dropped to second place behind North Carolina State in the latest poll, finished strong to beat Tulane 85-68. Kansas State (No. 4) clobbered Oklahoma 90-45 and Bradley (No. 7) outlasted Houston, 60-50.

Kansas State's victory left it in a two-way tie for the Big Eight lead with the Kansas Jayhawks, who swamped Iowa State 69-48.

In other Big Eight competition, Nebraska defeated Missouri 81-69 and Colorado, rebounding from a lopsided loss to Kansas State, turned back Oklahoma State 65-52.

Bradley's triumph enabled the Braves to move into sole possession of the runner-up position behind Cincinnati in the Missouri Valley Conference. The Bearcats hold the lead on the strength of their 85-84 success over Bradley in overtime Jan. 5.

Elsewhere in the Missouri Valley Conference, St. Louis got hot in the second half and beat Tulsa 76-61 and Wichita's Shockers led all the way to get past Drake 61-52.

Victories by Indiana, Illinois and Michigan in the Big Ten enabled each to tie for the conference lead, replacing vanquished Minnesota. Indiana beat the Gophers 63-59 on the strength of a 21-for 29 performance from the free throw line. Roger Taylor and Mannie Jackson had 24 points apiece as Illinois rode over Iowa 103-97 and Michigan, paced by John Tidwell's 37 points, defeated Wisconsin 84-74.

Idle Auburn remained atop the Southeastern Conference standings with 3-0. But Kentucky's triumph enabled the Wildcats to deadlock Georgia and Mississippi State for the runner-up spot at 3-1.

Georgia was not scheduled. But Miss. State walloped Vanderbilt 83-65. In other league games, Georgia Tech trampled Mississippi 89-70, Alabama beat Florida 82-77 and Tennessee defeated Louisiana State 65-58.

In the Southwest Conference, Texas A&M held off a late rally to edge Arkansas 63-62. Davidson nipped Virginia Military 75-70 in the Southern Conference.

Orr Captures Rookie Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Orr, an unheralded offensive end who gained stature with the Pittsburgh Steelers as the season progressed, today was voted the National Football League's 1958 rookie of the year in a close race with Bobby Mitchell of the Cleveland Browns.

The 5-11 native of Seneca, S.C., who did his college playing for Georgia University, received 16 votes of the 41 football writers voting in the annual Associated Press poll. Mitchell, the speedy halfback who started the season as if he were going to run off with first year honors only to slow down in the final weeks, received nine votes.

In all, nine freshmen were nominated. Los Angeles tackle Lou Michaels, Baltimore halfback Ray Brown and New York halfback Phil King received four votes each. Single votes went to tackle Alex Karras of Detroit, quarterback Mack Reynolds and Dale Meinert of the Chicago Cardinals and halfback-end Bill Anderson of Washington.

The 21-year-old Orr caught 33 passes, seven of them for touchdowns and gained 910 yards, an average of nearly 28 yards per catch.

3 Ohio College Cage Teams Keep Records Intact

By The Associated Press
Three Ohio college basketball teams kept various unblemished records intact Monday night. Cincinnati remained unbeaten in the Missouri Valley Conference, Steubenville ran its victory string to 34 straight and Youngstown notched its 13th consecutive home court victory.

The potent Bearcats from Cincinnati posted their fourth MVC win but they were forced to do it in an overtime contest at North Texas State, 64-56.

The fired-up Texans came within a rim's width of winning the game—Roy Byrd's shot with six seconds left in the regulation play hit the rim and bounced off. In the overtime, the Bearcats were never headed as Oscar Robertson dropped in 9 of his 28 points.

Steubenville extended its string with a 75-54 decision over Villa Madonna of Kentucky. It was the Barons' 59th consecutive home victory.

The Youngstown Penguins posted their ninth win in 11 games on a 84-78 conquest of Central State. The losers now have a 1-9 mark.

In an Ohio Conference battle at Alliance, Mount Union pulled ahead midway in the second half and stopped repeated rallies to edge Marietta 80-76.

It was Mount Union's fifth victory in eight games and left its conference standing at 2-2. Marietta is 1-2 in the conference and 3-7 for the season.

N.C. State Takes Over Lead In College Ratings

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kentucky's basketball team finally lost a game last week and lost first place in the Associated Press weekly major college ratings as a result.

North Carolina State's Wolf Pack, usually a contender for national honors and winner of the Dixie Classic this season, edged out Kentucky's Wildcats in the poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

It was an extremely close vote with Coach Everett Case's Carolinians getting the edge in first and second place ballots. North Carolina State was rated first by 48 of 130 voters and Kentucky on 35, but in the point totals it was 1,067 to 1,035.

Points are tallied on the basis of 10 for each first place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc. Voting is based on results through Jan. 10.

N.C. State followed its Dixie Classic triumph with victories over Virginia and Duke last week to run its season record to 11-1.

Kentucky, after winning 11 straight, stumbled last week and dropped a 75-66 decision to Vanderbilt, a team with an ordinary record, on the latter's court. That was enough to knock some of the glamor off the Wildcats, although they came back to win decisively from Louisiana State on Saturday.

North Carolina (9-1) retained third place with 813 points, topping Kansas State by only nine points. Carolina and N.C. State clash Wednesday at Raleigh in a game which should test the belief of many observers in that area that they should rate one-two in the nation.

Trailing the top four in the rankings this week were Auburn, Cincinnati, Bradley, Michigan State, St. John's and West Virginia.

Auburn and Cincinnati each moved up one place as Michigan State took its second defeat of the season. Bradley jumped two, from ninth to seventh, despite a one-point, double-overtime loss to Cincinnati—or maybe because of it.

Northwestern, upset by Indiana's defending Big Ten champions, tumbled from eighth place to eleventh and West Virginia moved up to fill the vacant spot in the top ten.

Top ten teams with latest records and won - lost records through Saturday, Jan. 10 in parentheses (points on 10-9-8 etc. basis):

1. North Carolina State (48) (11-1) 1067
2. Kentucky (35) (12-1) 1035
3. North Carolina (4) (9-1) 813
4. Kansas State (13) (11-1) 804
5. Auburn (14) (10-0) 774
6. Cincinnati (4) (8-2) 685
7. Bradley (2) (9-1) 382
8. Michigan State (8-2) 344
9. St. John's (N.Y.) (10-1) 205
10. West Virginia (2) (12-3) 193
- The second ten: Northwestern 181; Mississippi State (2) 125; Marquette (1) 87; St. Bonaventure (4) 77; St. Louis (1) 57; Seattle 38; Oklahoma City 37; Portland 31; Indiana 28; California 21.

Cooper Seeks $140,000 To Box Patterson

By JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer
LONDON (AP)—Newly crowned British heavyweight champion Henry Cooper today hoisted his price for tackling world champion Floyd Patterson to $140,000.

"That's what we want for any fight against Patterson," manager Jim Wicks said. "It doesn't matter whether the fight is here or in the States — that is our figure."

But Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, was far from receptive to Wicks' demands when he was contacted in New York.

"For one thing," D'Amato snapped, "the defeat does not eliminate London. For another thing, many people are anxious to fight for the world heavyweight championship. None of them is in a position to dictate to the champion. Perhaps the one who makes the most concessions will wind up with the title bout."

The 24-year-old Cooper jumped into a contender's spot with a 15-round decision over Brian London at London's Earls Court Stadium Monday night.

It was one of the bloodiest heavyweight fights ever seen in the British ring.

Both fighters finished badly cut around the eyes — but Cooper's flashing left jab won him the title.

Cooper, a classic boxer, out-classed a brawling, mauling London. The Associated Press gave 11 rounds to Cooper, 4 to London.

British promoter Jack Solomons wants to match him now against Johansson of Sweden in a European title fight in London in June.

"We'll listen to every offer and take the one that brings the most cash," Wicks said.

Pro Golfers Head For Crosby Event As Tijuana Ends

TIJUANA, Mex. (AP) — Golf's professional wanderers today headed for Bing Crosby's big show at Pebble Beach next weekend with a new name and a new record written into the books here.

The name was Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., and the record was the 72-hole score of 273 which netted him victory in the $20,000 Tijuana Open Monday.

Vossler knocked off a barrage of birdies en route to his second major tournament triumph, touring the par 36-72 Tijuana Country Club course in 36-32-68.

The sturdy, bespectacled Texan broke the tournament record by seven strokes. E. J. (Dutch) Harrison set the 280 mark a year ago. Harrison was unable to complete this year.

Vossler turned into a virtual rout what had shaped up as a mad scramble and a possible tie for a sudden-death playoff.

Four pros, Vossler, Tommy Bolt, John McMullin and Jay Hebert, were deadlocked as they turned into the final nine holes.

Bolt and Hebert dropped back quickly, but McMullin, a 23-year-old newcomer from Alameda, Calif., hung on to take second money of $1,900 with a 69 for 275.

Former U.S. Open champion Jack Fleck placed third with a 68 for 276 and $1,400.

TV Fights Seen Likely Despite 'Kayo' Of IBC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Television fight fans likely will be able to watch the Wednesday and Friday night bouts for months to come despite a court-administered kayo of the International Boxing Club.

This was the curbstone opinion of some of the interested parties after the Supreme Court upheld Monday a district judge's anti-monopoly decree. The action effectively put the IBC of New York and Chicago out of business.

There was no immediate answer however, to the question of who will arrange the televised matches the IBC has been handling for years.

Another uncertainty was the status of IBC promotions already booked for future dates.

The court ruling also directed James D. Norris, a founder and former president of the IBC, and Arthur M. Wirtz, his associate, to sell the stock that gives them control of Madison Square Garden in New York.

Truman Gibson, who succeeded the ailing Norris as IBC president, said in London the IBC would begin to comply immediately with the court decision.

A 5-3 majority of the high court went down the line in support of the 1957 decree of Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan in New York which:

—Found the IBC organization monopolized championship bouts from 1949 to 1953 and ordered it to dissolve.

—Directed Norris and Wirtz, who controlled the IBC, to resign as officers of Madison Square Garden and within five years to unload their stock in the garden.

—Prohibited the Garden, Norris and Wirtz from promoting more than two championship fights a year for the next five years. Norris and Wirtz also own Chicago Stadium, the indoor arena in which many a champ has been crowned.

Football Coach Resigns At Beaver Falls School

BEAVER FALLS — William Ross, football coach at Beaver Falls High School for the last three years, resigned Monday night at the Board of Education meeting.

Ross, a former Beaver Falls athlete and graduate of Geneva College, gave no reason.

The board declared all football jobs, including the posts of three assistants, open. The three assistants will be given an opportunity to reapply for the posts.

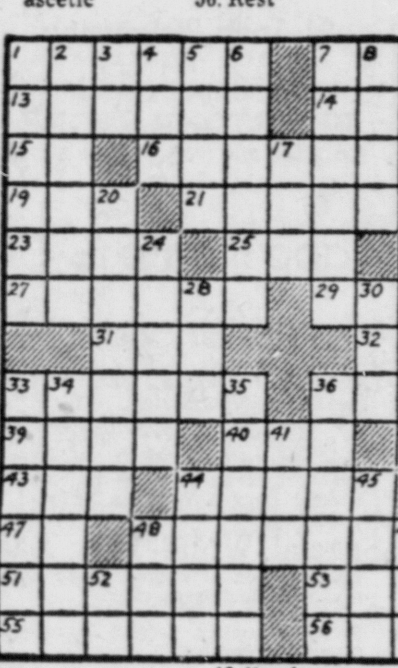

Ross' three-year record showed 9 wins, 16 losses and 3 ties. He recorded his best record was in 1956, his first year, when the team won four games and lost six. He won 3, lost 6 and tied 1 last season.

Bluth Leads Qualifiers In Star Bowling

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Ray Bluth of St. Louis, who blasted a near-record 1,400-series, holds the top spot today at the start of the final day in the first qualifying round in the All-Star Bowling Tournament.

The field of 192 men will be chopped in half at the end of tonight's action. After the semifinal Wednesday, the round-robin match-game finals start Thursday.

Bluth was three pins under the tournament record set by Chuck O'Donnell of St. Louis in 1950. Bluth's 1,400 series included games of 187, 221, 267, 222, 246 and 257. His 18-game total is 3,862.

In the women's division Olga Gloor of Norwood Park, Ill., led the 46 qualifiers into the semifinals today and Wednesday. She shot an 802 series Monday to boost her total to 2,413.

The last woman to qualify from the first round was Faye McKenzie of Lemon Grove, Calif. She has a total pinfall of 2,171.

Carol Wolaver of Chicago rolled a 238-game Monday, high for the day in the women's division.

In the men's division Jay Eckert of Paramus, N.J., knocked down 276 pins for the high game of the day.

Schoendienst Signs Pact At 'Slight Cut'

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Red Schoendienst, ailing second baseman of the Milwaukee Braves, signed a contract for next season from his hospital bed Monday and he said he took a slight pay cut from last season.

The second baseman has been in bed for two months with tuberculosis and is not expected to be on the field this year.

"In spite of the predictions about him, the 35-year-old Red said 'I think I'll be able to play this season.'"

He signed the contract from his bed in Mount St. Rose Hospital in a short talk with General Manager John Quinn and Birdie Tebbetts, executive vice president.

Four Added To List For Golf Awards Fete

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Bolt and Dow Finsterwald, reigning kings of American pro golf, and Dick and Dixon Chapman, the national father-son titleholders, today were added to the list of golf notables who will attend the national awards dinner of the Metropolitan Golf Writers Assn., Jan. 27.

Each will receive a trophy marking his 1958 golf achievements. Bolt won the National Open championship last year and Finsterwald the national PGA title.

Boston's Dick Gernert led American League first basemen in double plays in 1958. He was in on 118.

Fox Killers May Have To Forego Bounty This Year

LISBON — A ruling is expected today by county commissioners from Prosecutor G. William Brokaw on whether funds can be appropriated for fox bounties even though a state regulation says such appropriations must be made at the annual reorganization session.

The commissioners overlooked the appropriation at their reorganization Jan. 5.

County Auditor Irvin J. Vornard says the law requires the appropriation be made at the reorganization.

If the appropriation cannot be made, the county will be unable to pay bounty for foxes this year. Meanwhile, Sheriff Russell Van Fossan is taking applications for the bounty but advising the applicants they may not receive the money.

In 1958, a total of 645 sets of fox feet were turned in for payment of bounties amounting to $1,935.

Newsman-Lawyer Dies

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Wallace Taylor Hughes, 84, prominent as a newspaperman and an attorney, died Monday. He started as a reporter for the Louisville Courier-Journal in 1893 and later became vice president and associate publisher of the Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times. He became general counsel attorney of the Rock Island Railroad in 1908 and served the line and other Western railroads until his retirement in 1945. He was born in Goshen, Ky.

2 Arrested, 3rd Sought In Wood's Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two men have been arrested and a third is being sought in the mysterious death of former television newsman Ed Wood, police disclosed Monday night.

Held are Robert G. Edwards Jr., 34-year-old tenant of the building where Wood's badly beaten body was found last Thursday, and Carl Oscar Lewis, 28, of Columbus. Wanted is Alfred Spencer Trayham, 32, also of Columbus.

Missing from Wood's body were his wallet, coat and wrist watch.

Police, who hold to the theory that Wood died in a fall down stairs, said that on Wednesday night, Wood cashed a payroll check at a bar and after several stops at other bars, left with a man he apparently knew. They disappeared for a couple of hours.

Later, Wood was brought to Edwards' third floor apartment, where Edwards said Lewis and Trayham brought Wood to "roll" him.

Edwards told the two men he "didn't want any part of it," and the two left taking Wood down the stairs with them.

Edwards said he heard the two hit Wood on the second floor landing. He said Wood cried:

"Don't hit me. You don't have to beat me up. You can take what I have."

Edwards said the two left Wood in a room and took his coat.

Lewis' statement paralleled Edwards' except he said he was in Edwards' apartment when Trayham brought Wood to the third floor.

Both Lewis and Trayham were recently released from Ohio Penitentiary.

Lt. Robert Gloeckner said: "It's obvious what happened... there was no light... no way for light to get in... he's been hit... had a 3 per cent alcohol count... it was blacker than the ace of spades... the stairs were awful steep... he hit the stone at the bottom."

Two new trustees are Harold Neil and Charles Lober. David Winter was returned as Sunday School superintendent. Elders are James Reid, Winter, Milo Mitchell, Bertram Benton, Claude B. Eigh, Clark, Young, Glenn Swaney, D. R. Imrie and Orin Seidel.
